Prepare and "Show What You Know" CCSS.ELA- Literacy.SL.8.1.a Come to discussions prepared, having read or researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence on the topic, text, or issue to probe and reflect on ideas under discussion.	You may not have taken proper notes during the preparation period. It seems like you aren't sure of "what you know" and need more time to think or re-read. You may not share enough for me to determine what you know.	You are prepared, and use the notes you have created to add to the conversation. You are able to contribute to what is being said with evidence AND raise questions of your own. It is clear that you know that topic and contribute appropriately.	You are a leader within the conversation, using evidence that you have prepared to make interesting points, draw others in to the conversation, and are able to reflect on ideas presented to point out connections or misconceptions.
